Consultations and filing of tax returns for April 2019-March 2020 Municipal & Prefectural Tax

・市県民税申告相談の会場・日程

It is necessary to file a tax return for municipal and prefectural taxes in Higashihiroshima City if you had an address or residence in Higashihiroshima City as of January 1st, 2019, and you had some earnings during 2018. However, filing is not necessary for those who have filed a final income tax return (kakutei-shinkoku, 確定申告) to the Tax Office, those whose only income is their salary and where a year-end adjustment (nenmatsu-chosei, 年末調整) has been carried out at their workplace, and those whose only income is a pension and where there is no change to the deductions shown on their 'certificate of income and withholding of tax' (gensen-choshu-hyo, 源泉徴収票).

If you have income from a public pension of 4,000,000 yen per year or less and other income of 200,000 yen per year or less, you do not need to file a tax return, but if there are any changes to deductions relating to dependents or social insurance, etc., it is necessary to file a tax return for municipal and prefectural taxes.

Tax return forms will be sent out at the beginning of February to those who filed a tax return for municipal and prefectural taxes in 2018. If you need to file this tax return but you do not receive a form, please contact the Municipal Tax Division.

From 2017, it has been necessary to write your My Number when filing a tax return. Also, when submitting the documents for a tax return, it is necessary to show your My Number document (your My Number card or notification card), and personal identification. Please do not forget to take these documents with you.

Consultations regarding the filing of municipal and prefectural tax returns for the upcoming 2019 financial year (April 2019-March 2020) are available between Monday February 18th and Friday March 15th, 2019. On Monday February 18th and Tuesday February 19th, consultations are available at the City Office (fourth floor). On other dates (weekdays from Wednesday February 20th to Friday March 15th), consultations are available at a number of locations in each of the areas of the city. For details, please see page 10 of the Japanese edition of the City Newsletter (February issue). At these consultations, simple tax returns can be accepted. However, it is necessary to include a copy of your My Number document, and a personal identification document.

If your house or property were damaged as a result of the torrential rains of July 2018, by declaring details of the cost of the damage, or of outgoings related to the disaster, you may be eligible for reductions in or exemption from municipal and prefectural tax.

Declaration of income for those enrolled in National Health Insurance, etc.

People aged over 18 enrolled in the National Health Insurance scheme (kokumin kenko hoken, 国民健康保険) or in Senior Citizens' Health Insurance (koki koureisha iryo, 後期高齢者医療) must each individually file a declaration of their income, even if they have no income or if all of their income is exempt from tax (including if they are provided for by their family).

If even one member of a household has not declared their income, then even if the household is a low-income household, the household will not be able to receive reductions in National Health Insurance taxes or Senior Citizens' Health Insurance payments. In addition, the threshold for high-cost medical expenses which need to be covered by individuals will be raised for the household, and the household will become unable to receive reductions in the cost of food and treatment in medical facilities (shokuji ryoyo-hi, 食事療養費). Please ensure you declare your income. However, those in the following groups do not need to make a declaration of income:

- Those aged under 18 (as of January 1st, 2019).
- Those whose only income is from a wage or salary, and where a year-end adjustment (nenmatsu-chosei, 年末調整) has been carried out at their place of work.

The deadline for filing this declaration is Monday April 15th.

Those whose income is over 280,000 yen should file a tax return for municipal and prefectural Tax.

Paperwork for making a declaration of National Health Insurance tax or Senior Citizens' Health Insurance payments will be sent by post to those people who are judged to need to make such a declaration (based on previous income). Please inquire if these documents have not arrived by the middle of February.

Have you thought about using generic medicine?

してみませんか？

Generic medicine is medicine made with the same effects and efficacy as a patent medicine, after the patent for the original medicine has expired. The quality, efficacy and safety of generic medicines is approved by the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare. The cost of generic medicines is generally between 20% and 70% of the cost of patent medicines, so by switching to a generic medicine, it is possible to greatly reduce the cost of any medicine you are taking.

In Higashihiroshima City, people enrolled in the National Health Insurance scheme are sent information encouraging the use of generic medicine. If you receive this, please read it carefully. 'Generic medicine request cards' are also available. Please make use of these cards.
